To the lucky person to whom it may concern:

RE: Kim Walter

Kim is first and foremost an excellent chef. She knows, loves and serves gloriously healthy food for either a few people or a large crowd.

She is gentle, kind, honest, good humored, frugal when necessary, very sensible and dependable. She knows how to buy food. Kim Walter can cook for those with exotic tastes, or for those with simple, but refined taste. Be it meat, fish, poultry, vegetarian, vegan, American, Chinese, French, Spanish or German – she can do it all, and without fuss, bother or unnecessary expense.

One small caveat: don't let her bake cookies, for if you do, both you, your friends and children will be so delighted you will not be able to stop eating them – pure, glorious addiction will ensue. By the way, if you really insist, she will bake a cookie that is so light and delicious you will just float innocently away to Heaven.

Sincerely,
